

Then the sun went behind a cloud and the sky went grey.

‘It’s too cold,’ cooed the dove. ‘I hope it’s not going to be winter again.’

‘Spring is meant to be a beginning,’ said the angel, ‘but today feels like an ending.’